THE EXPERIENCE

In the region considered the birthplace of the waters of the Amazon basin, Anavilhanas Jungle Lodge emerges as a safe haven of compliance and change in the middle of the forest. Anavilhanas Lodge is a boutique and exclusive hotel situated in the heart of the Amazon rainforest, in Brazil. Located in front of Anavilhanas, the world's largest freshwater archipelago, the Lodge is touched by the black waters of the Rio Negro ("Black River") and is blessed with the sounds, smells and mysteries of the Amazon jungle. Free of mosquitoes and nested within a vast stretch of untouched rainforest, you will experience the perfect balance between nature and comfort, adventure and peacefulness. The architecture is in line with the regional tradition: lots of straw and suspended wooden structures, holding cozy rooms where our guests will find peace and quiet for an invigorating night's sleep. Throughout the hotel, the rustic atmosphere is derived from modern forms and contours which enhance the grace of natural materials and their functions in the structure.

The restaurant is hidden amidst the trees, but through them it is possible to behold the dark waters of the river, so dark that it is called Rio Negro. On the menu, you will find a blend of classic local dishes and international cuisine, prepared and served with diligence for an impeccable presentation. The deck and pool overlook the river and is perfectly positioned under the canopy of the forest, peacefulness and a perfect spot for contemplation. Together with the reception and the bar, you will find a rich library, comfortable chairs and gaming tables which invite the guests to relax and spend their time in good company. There is also a small floating deck which allows our guests to take a dive into the river, or to simply contemplate the quietness of the dark waters.

BEST TIME TO VISIT

The weather in the Amazon is quite hot and humid, with constant rain. The region can be visited throughout the year and has two distinct seasons. The dry season occurs usually from September to December. From January to June, the rainy season, the rivers reach their highest level; boat access to various regions becomes easier, allowing navigation at the level of the canopies of several submerged trees.
