THE EXPERIENCE

Cristalino Lodge is located in one of the richest destinations in the Amazon to observe birds, mammals, butterflies and orchids, is an exceptional Amazon destination for nature lovers. Situated amidst an 11,399-hectare private reserve that is much larger than Manhattan Island and six times the size of the Fernando de Noronha archipelago, the hotel offers unique outdoor experiences. Built to harmonize with the surrounding forest, the bungalows ensure our guests a comfortable and pleasant stay. Selected as one of the world's 25 best ecolodges by National Geographic Traveler, Cristalino Lodge is a member of distinguished tourism associations that offer some of the best travel experiences in Brazil and around the world.

ACCOMMODATIONS

The hotel is set, like a precious stone, amid the lush exuberance of the Amazon Forest, with accommodations that blend in with the native forest on the banks of the river Cristalino. Notable features are the wooden bungalows with ceramic tile floors, carefully designed to achieve a balance between comfort and practical sustainability. All the rooms offer Granado bath amenities, luxuries for your rest days that harmonize with nature.

Special bungalow

A spectacular bungalow, with high ceilings and a lovely outdoor bath in a secluded private garden where you can enjoy a relaxing bath surrounded by nature. Separately constructed within the native forest, this spacious 79-sq-metre (850-sq-feet) bungalow is equipped with a choice of king-size bed or 2 comfortable single beds, plus 2 sofa beds, Trousseau 300 thread count linens, soft pillows for restorative sleep, ceiling fan, exclusive veranda and Granado bath amenities. Large windows provide natural ventilation and offer beautiful views of the forest. Accommodates up to 4 people in privacy, comfort and style. Additional amenities: in-room digital safe, Trousseau bathrobes, towels for river bathing, hair dryers and turndown service.

SERVICES AND FACILITIES

The hotel's shared facilities have been carefully designed to ensure comfort and integration with the forest, with the exuberance of the Amazon reflected in the communal areas.

Bar

The hotel has a delightful bar that sets off the granite rock formations in the grounds. At night, a fire blazes on the spacious outdoor deck, equipped with tables, loungers and benches, creating an ideal atmosphere for swapping stories with friends and fellow travelers.

Restaurant

The restaurant has a total of 254-sq-meter of indoor and outdoor areas that provide a welcoming environment and extensive views of the surrounding forest. The architecture makes use of wood and illuminated by indirect lighting and candlelight, creates an unforgettable atmosphere.

Cuisine: Serving Brazilian cuisine that makes use of organically grown fruits and vegetables, fresh fish and assorted meats, the meals at the Cristalino Lodge are among the memorable experiences you will take from your trip. The recipes incorporate a touch of the local flavors, with desserts that showcase the fruits of the Amazon helping to enrich the experience. All accompanied by a full list of wines from our exclusive cellar and surrounded by the enchantments of the tropical forest.

Living room

Comfortable sofas and chairs, writing tables, direct and indirect lighting and sweeping views of the native forest all combine to provide an ideal atmosphere for quiet moments of relaxation. Books about biodiversity are available for anyone wanting to learn more about the region.

Floating deck

With its sun loungers, hammocks and parasols, this delightful floating platform is one of the hotel's favorite spots. Situated on the majestic Cristalino river and surrounded by lush forest, it is a base where you can bathe in the river, take a break after a walk along a forest trail or enjoy the sunset. In the evening, the open log fire helps to create a cheerful atmosphere for making new friends, celebrating life and enjoying the lush nature and star-filled sky.

BEST TIME TO VISIT

The weather in the Amazon is quite hot and humid, with constant rain. The region can be visited throughout the year and has two distinct seasons. The dry season occurs usually from September to December. From January to June, the rainy season, the rivers reach their highest level; boat access to various regions becomes easier, allowing navigation at the level of the canopies of several submerged trees.

GETTING THERE

Alta Floresta airport (AFL) has daily flights to and from Cuiabá (CGB), which take just over an hour in the modern jets of the airline Azul Linhas Aéreas. We will meet you at the airport. The transfer to Cristalino Lodge takes place on the same day and involves a one-hour drive followed by a half-hour boat ride.

ACTIVITIES

The Cristalino Lodge offers a wide range of outdoor activities, including:

Canoeing

The tranquil waters of the river Cristalino are perfect for canoeing and safe and comfortable equipment is provided by the hotel.

Trails

Nature walks along the 30 km network of trails offer small groups of visitors the chance to gain a deep understanding of the tropical ecosystem.

Observation towers

For a truly unique experience of the Amazon rainforest, a visit to the observation towers cannot be missed. Soaring to a height of 50-meters (164-feet), with platforms at various heights, the towers provide panoramic views of the reserve, with the vast forest canopy stretching out like a blanket of green at one's feet.

Fauna and flora observation

In this region, several flagship species of Brazilian fauna and flora can be found, such as: harpy eagle, giant river otter, white-whiskered-spider monkey, collared peccary, white-nosed-saki, red-handed howler monkey, crimson-bellied parakeet, black-girdled barbet, curl-crested aracari, Brazil-nut tree, mahogany and maripa palm. This area has been highlighted by the Brazilian Ministry of the Environment as a priority for conservation.
